What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

It is the best medicine for all humors.

Meanwhile Schnettler Schumacker, Hannigan, Helms and Gutke were busy at the telephone, and conferring with their attorneys and friends whom they sent out to induce their bonds men to come into court.

At 11:30 o'clock Judge Douglas extended the time to noon, stating that if bonds were not given at that time the prisoners should be placed in jail.

At 12 no bondsmen had appeared and each of the five men accompanied by a Deputy Sheriff, marched from the courtroom down the main stairway and into the jail.

HANNIGAN AND SCHUMACHER

TAKE IMPRISONMENT HARD. As they entered the jail, Helms, Schnettler and Gutke smiled pleasantly at friends who were standing at the door. Hannigan and Schumacher took the matter more seriously and their countenances were gloomy. Captain Anton Huebler, jaller, his son, Edward Huebler and all the jail guards, were expecting the five men charged with odling. In fact, Captain Huebler had expected to entertain them at his hostelry Monday night, and had set apart three cells

"What cells are these men to have? asked a guard.

"Nos. 81, 82 and 83," answered Captain Huener. "Gutke and Helms will occupy 81. Schumacher and Hannigan 82 and Schnettler will bunk alone in 81 unless others are brought in." The three cells assigned to the men are on the second balcony on the south side of the jail. They are no different than any of who are in fail.

The names, occupations, ages and alleged offenses of the prisoners were then recorded in the prison books. Gutke was the only his birthplace as Germany. His age was recorded as 44. He is married. Helms is single and 34 years old, Schumacher married and is 38 years of age, Hannigan is not married and gave his age as 33 and Schuet-tier is married and 42. The prisoners were permitted to sit in

The five men sat and stood around all afternoon talking in undertones. They were noncommunicative when asked for state ments about their cases, all declaring they preferred to tell their stories in court. DINNER IS BROUGHT

FROM A RESTAURANT.

About 2 o'clock they sent out to a near-by restaurant for dinner. It was brought in a huge basket and was inspected by a guard, as is the custom with all food sent in to prisoners.

"I did not expect to find oplum, dynamite, files or weapons secreted in the food," said the guard afterwards, "but we do not deviate from our rules. All food must be in-

The regular hour for locking prisoners is their cells in the jail is 6 o'clock, but Captain Huebler permitted his newly arrived guests to remain out after that hour. They moked cigars and talked in a serious man ner among themselves.

BERSCH WITH PRISONERS WHEN ARRESTED SECOND TIME.

Edmund Bersch, after signing the bonds of he charge of bribery in connection with the Suburban deal and perjury before the Grand Jury, went down to the jail to see Hannigan, Schumacher, Helms, Gutke and Schnettler. While conversing with the prisoners Sheriff Dickman entered the jail and served the second bench warrant on

"What does this mean?" demanded

Bersch. "I guess it means that another charge ha been made against you," answered the Sheriff.

Bersch remained in jail nearly two hou with the five others. Although recognizing It as a serious matter, the others could not suppress their jovial feeling aroused by the fact that Bersch had been rearrested while talking to them in jall and attempting to heer them up. When Colonel Butler arrived at the Four Courts to sign Albright's hand he asked that Bersch be brought out of jail that another bond might be given for him. This was done and Bersch bude arewell to the other prisoners.

"We're glad you're out of it, old man out sorry to lose your company," said one This was the first intimation the five prisoners had that the Grand Jury had taker action on the lighting deal, although they understod it was under consideration when they were placed in fail.

TO ASK SUPREME COURT FOR HABEAS CORPUS WRITS.

When court convened yesterday Attor ney John Gernez sought to have the bonds of the men arrested on bench warrants reduced. He declared that each of the p.isoners would be able to give a bond for a smaller amount, which, he said, would be

Judge Douglas answered that he considered the amount proper under the circumstances, and would consider no proposition to decrease it. Gernez at once announced that he would begin proceedings at once for writs of habeas corpus from the Su-preme Court, ordering the release of the prisoners, on the ground that the amount of ball exacted is excessive, and that an error had been made in making the two charges of perjury and bribery in one bench warrant.

charges of perjury and bribery in one bench warrant.

Judge Choster H. Krum and Thomas J. Rowe had joined Gernez in the cases, although they did not appear at the Four Courts. Gernez stated that one of these attorneys would go to Jefferson City tast night to present the matter to the Supreme Court to-day. The retition for the writs states that Hannigan, Schnettler Schumacher and Helms are being held by Jaller Huebler unlawfully, and cites the amount of the bonds exacted, which is claimed to be excessive.

No writ is asked for in Gutke's case, as it is reported that the $45.000 bond required in his case will be supplied this morning. In the event of failure a writ will then be asked for in his case.

Under the surveilience of Detective Watt, he went to several places in the city and closed up his affairs.

"I am innocent and am perfectly willing to go to St. Louis," he said.

Late Inst night he was rocked up in the Central Police Station.

It developed to-day that several messages regarding Tamblyn have passed between the police of St. Louis and Cleveland in recent weeks, and when Tamblyn was indicted the Cleveland police desided to arrest him and hold him until they received orders from St. Louis. The police of the latter city were notified that Tamblyn was at Central Station and they asked that he be formally held until a St. Louis officer could get him. A formal charge of "fugitive from justice" was then placed against him. As he cannot give bail, he will be in the custody of the police until he arrives at St. Louis.

Tamblyn was not reficent about discussing the affair. When seen, he reffersted his innocence, and stated that it was his belief that he was wanted more as a witness than as a culprit.

"It is either spite work," he said, "or an aftempt to get me to St. Louis as a witness. I was a member of the St. Louis House of Delegates two years ago. died July 14, in New Mexico, was passed. Doctor Bushnell, who formerly lived in St. Louis, is an authority on earthworks and reiles of the prehistoric tribes of Amer ica. He has written extensively on the subject, and for various institutions and on his own account. He has investigated the principal mounds in the Mississippi Valley and the region of the Great Lakes. He has been frequently mentioned for chief of that department of the World's Fair. Doctor Bushnell believes that the World's Fair management should make an apropriation for the collection of archaeological and historical specimens in the Mississippi Valley and other parts of America, which shall form the publisher of America, which shall ley and other parts of America, which shall form the nucleus for a permanent museum to be left by the Fair.

"This was done," he said, "in the case of the Fleid Museum in Chicago. Numerous foreign Governments which exhibited at the Columbian Exposition, upon hearing that a museum was to be started, readily donated specimens which they had on display at the exposition. I believe this would be the case in St. Louis. This city is a splendid place for an historical museum, especially of specimens from the Mississippi Valley. I do not believe that too much importance can be attached to organizing such an institution."

Schneperkoetter Is Indorsed.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the Nineteenth Ward at North St. Louis Turner Hall, Twentieth and Salisbury streets, a resolution indorsing Louis Schaeperkoetter for City Central Committeeman from the ward was adopted last night.

Besides indorsing Shaeperkoetter for City, Central Committeeman, the speakers bitterly denounced the methods of the old City, Central Committee.

Billy Hahn, Recorder of Deeds, and one of the new City Central Committeeman, addressed the meeting. He referred to the old City Central Committee as a combine, and denounced their methods severely. He stated the proposed fusion between the Municipal Ownership purty and the Republican party was a sell-out to elect Kersens to the United States Senate.

Judge John C. Robertson announced himself a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Seventh District.

F. W. Brockmann, Dan Myers, Oscar Layton, Otto Stifel and Fred Busche also addressed the meeting. German Correspondent a Visitor.
